

Automatic Retracting Running Board

From Specialized
APPLICATIONS

The safest and easiest way to get in and out of any van, our automatic retracting running board is the solution. We lower the step in height to less than half the factory climb. This electric running board services all doors on either side of the vehicle and an LED lighting system is included. No other running board can match our safety, features or convenience. We provide ease of access. The running board conveniently stows beneath the vehicle's body to maintain ground clearance and reduce the potential of contact damage during travel.
